BIOCHEMIC TABLETS

The Biochemic system of medicine was introduced as a branch of Homoeopathy by Dr. Schussler in 1873. It is based on the basic twelve cell salts which are present inside the body. Each salt has a particular function. When an equilibrium of the molecules of these salts is disturbed the functions performed by these salts get disturbed and manifested as signs and symptoms. On the basis of totality of symptoms when the most indicated salt is administered, they act as catalyst in causing the absorption of these particular salts from the food and thus restore the natural body functioning.

Hapdco's unique and soft Biochemic and Bio-Combination tablets are Manufactured as per HPI standards from best quality imported Pharma Grade Lactose.
